DISCLOSURE OF RISKS

Prerequisite:

This notice does not disclose all the risks and other material aspects of derivative products such as futures and options. You should not trade in derivatives unless you understand the nature of the contract you are entering into and the extent of your risk exposure. You also need to be sure that the contract is right for you in light of your terms and your financial situation.

Different instruments involve different levels of risk exposure and you should be aware of the following points if you decide to trade with such instruments:

1) The Foreign Exchange Market:

Fluctuating forex or currency option markets carry risks similar to investing in a futures contract and you should be aware of these risks. Trading in precious metals, fluctuating currency markets or currency options may also involve a conditional liability and you should be aware of their implications.

You should be aware that margin trading in precious metals and currencies are some of the riskiest forms of investing available in the financial markets, and they are only suitable for sophisticated individuals and institutions.

Speculation in precious metals or foreign currency markets should only be done with venture capital funds which, if lost, will not significantly affect your financial health or that of your institution.

You should also be aware that the limited risk in buying options means that you could lose the entire investment option, if that option were to expire worthless. If you wish to continue your investment, you acknowledge that the funds you have committed come only from venture capital funds and that the loss of your investment will not compromise your lifestyle and that it will not affect your future program of retirement. In addition, you fully understand the nature and risks of investing in precious metals and currencies, and that your obligations to third parties should not be overlooked should you incur losses as a result of the investment.

2) CFDs:

Contracts for Difference (CFDs) can be similar to futures contracts.

Investing in a CFD involves risks similar to investing in a futures contract or option, and you should be aware of the risks involved.

3) Global Markets:

Foreign markets carry different risks.

Potential profits or losses from transactions in foreign markets or in foreign currencies may be affected by fluctuations in foreign exchange rates. These increased risks include the risk of political or economic policy changes in a foreign media which could significantly and permanently alter the terms and conditions, the negotiability or the price of a foreign currency.

4) Orders or Strategies Aimed at Limiting Risks:

The placement of certain orders aimed at limiting losses on certain amounts may not always be affected due to market conditions or technological limits which may make it impossible to execute these orders. Strategies using combinations of positions, such as "mixed" and "stall" positions, can be just as risky or even riskier than simple "long" or "short" positions.

5) Prices:

The prices displayed on the INFINITY GLOBAL MARKET LTD site and or on its communication system, do not necessarily reflect the entire market. Therefore, we can exercise considerable discretion in setting margin conditions and in raising margin funds.

6) Transactions with Conditional Commitment:

Along with margins, they require you to make a series of purchase price payments, instead of immediately paying the full purchase price. You may suffer a total loss of the Margin you deposited in order to establish or maintain a position. If the market moves against you, you may be called upon to pay substantial additional Margin in the short term to maintain the position. If you fail to do so within the prescribed time frame, your position may be liquidated at a loss and you will be liable for any resulting deficit. Although the Transaction is not subject to a margin, it may still provide for the obligation to make additional payments in certain circumstances, in addition to any amount paid that you paid when you entered into the contract. Conditional commitment transactions that are not traded on or under the rules of a recognized or designated investment exchange, could expose you to significantly greater risk.

7) Commissions:

Before making any transactions, you should obtain details of all commissions and other charges for which you will be responsible. If all charges are not expressed in monetary values (but for example in the form of a trading spread) you advise you to obtain a clear and written explanation, in order to know what these charges are likely to imply in monetary value.

8) Insolvency:

Any situation of insolvency or default may result in the liquidation or closure of positions without your consent. In certain circumstances, you will not be able to recover the real property that you have deposited as security and will have to accept any available payment method. In addition, you transfer full ownership and title to some or all of the money you deposit with INFINITY GLOBAL MARKET LTD for an amount to secure your open positions or to hedge your eventual actual futures contract or obligations. forward-looking, so that you will not have an exclusive claim on the part or all of your money that will not be separated, and that you will only be classified as an ordinary creditor of INFINITY GLOBAL MARKET LTD with respect to any claim for the payment of this part of the money described above and which may therefore prove to be irrecoverable in the event of insolvency or default.

You can engage in trading in precious metals, CFDs, fluctuating currency markets, foreign markets only if you are willing to accept a high degree of risk and in particular the risks as also defined in our file "risk warning".

You should be prepared to incur a loss greater than any amounts you have deposited, but also losses, charges (such as interest) and any other amount (such as costs) that may be incurred.
